INTRODUCTION

The conference has been successfully organized in the past in Thailand, Lao PDR. Vietnam, Myanmar, Philippines, Indonesia, India and China. As we have known, the sustainable development goals (SDGs) that are interconnected have been formulated in 2015 by the United Nations in order to spur global development until 2030. We would like to sustain this conference where scientists and other development partners meet together to stimulate discussion and share best practices through high quality research and impactful solutions toward societal development. The Association of Agricultural Technology in Southeast Asia (AATSEA) has been organizing the International Conference on various topics in agricultural science and technology and related fields that are needed for the sustainable development of human being. AATSEA realizes its responsibility to serve the community by providing education, research and development in agricultural biology, science and technology, particularly in the multi-disciplinary aspects. Accordingly, this conference will be held in order to strengthen international networks among academic members, researchers, scientists, industry players and other interested stakeholders in agricultural science and technology. It is also aimed to serve as a venue for knowledge exchange and discussion among those seeking for new vision and insight towards the advancement of agriculture. For the technical point of view, the conference will explore various topics in the following parallel sessions:

Session 1: Modern Organic Agriculture, Smart Farms and AI

Session 2: Microbial Biotechnology

Session 3: Soil, water and Environment

Session 4: Plant Biotechnology and Plant Pest and Disease Management

Session 5: Animal Biotechnology (Fisheries Sciences, Entomology)

Session 6: Food Security, Food Safety, Food Science and Postharvest Technology

Session 7: Agricultural Policies, Agribusiness Management & Agricultural Development

Session 8: Climate resilient agricultural practices and Climate Change

Session 9: Circular Bioeconomy and Green Technologies

Session 10: General Sciences and Technological innovation

Special Session : Business for Agricultural Innovation
